To view and manage your Reseller Hosting Plan details, please visit your Namecheap Account Panel.

Set Up Your Domain Name

Your domain name will need to be pointed to your new Reseller Hosting service. To do this, you'll need to set up the nameservers to the values listed below:

Nameserver 1 rs40a.registrar-servers.com

Nameserver 2 rs40b.registrar-servers.com

Please keep in mind it may take between 24 and 48 hours for these changes to be reflected, globally, across the Internet. You can easily update your nameservers through Namecheap Account Panel. Our Handy Guide will walk you through the necessary steps.

Important: If your domain name is registered elsewhere, you will need to update your nameservers through their designated control panel or support system.

Personal Nameservers

Important: If your domain name already uses personal nameservers, please update their IP addresses by following these instructions.

Manage Hosting in cPanel cPanel is the control center of your Reseller Hosting account. Through cPanel you can configure your email, FTP, databases, and other important features.

cPanel details

URL (options)	https://host40.registrar-servers.com/cpanel (if DNS propagation is pending) or http://runinsights.com/cpanel
cPanel username	runinjxg
cPanel password	mtJ3N6k8oN2v

For enhanced security, please remember to change your default cPanel password after you first log in to your Reseller Hosting account.

Connect via FTP/SFTP

Your cPanel login details listed above may also be used for an SFTP (Secure File Transfer Protocol) or an FTP (File Transfer Protocol) connection. Here are some additional details you may need to connect:

FTP/SFTP details

FTP/SFTP Mode	Passive
FTP Port	21 or
SFTP Port	21098

When you're ready to upload your website, we strongly recommend using an SFTP connection (with port 21098) for added security.

Access WebHostManager

WebHostManager (WHM) is the reseller control center for your Reseller Hosting account. With WebHostManager you can create, modify, manage, and terminate full hosting accounts for you and your clients. Each account you create in WHM comes with its own cPanel for user level account management.

WebHostManager details

Server address	host40.registrar-servers.com
WHM URL	http://host40.registrar-servers.com/whm or http://runinsights.com/whm
WHM username	runinjxg
WHM password	mtJ3N6k8oN2v

Important: Your WHM login credentials are the same as those you use to log in to cPanel. If you wish to change your password, please do this within cPanel as the changes will be automatically applied to WHM.

To get the most out of your Reseller Hosting account and WHM, please refer to these guides:
